

Textron Aviation's (Beechcraft Corporation and Cessna Aircraft Company) supplier diversity and small business program is about reflecting the market and community where our company plans to grow and thrive. To that end, Textron Aviation is committed to a diverse supply base that reflects the demographics and values of our Company, customers, and the communities in which we operate.

Textron Aviation designs, builds and services the world's finest business and general aviation, special mission and trainer aircraft. Our core objective is to create customers for life by delivering aircraft that excel in both quality and safety, while offering an overall value proposition that is unmatched in our industry.

The relationships we have with our key suppliers and partners are critical to our future, and we count on them to deliver on our commitments to our customers. We encourage and promote the development of new businesses, particularly those that complement our goal of building and maintaining a diverse supplier base. We strive to provide an inclusive environment to do business with small, minority-owned, women-owned, veteran-owned (including service disabled veteran-owned) and HUB Zone certified businesses.

Textron Aviation also seeks to provide an inclusive environment for historically black colleges, universities, and minority institutions to participate in the procurement of technical, engineering, and research services.

Potential suppliers can register at Become a Supplier on our internet and learn more about doing business with our company. Specific questions regarding supplier diversity should be directed to the Supplier Diversity Program Administrator, within the Supply Chain Management Organization.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Ronald W. Draper".

Ronald Draper
Sr. Vice President, Integrated Supply Chain

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Justin Salmans".

Justin Salmans
Vice President, Supply Chain